Acts of Kindness continuing this week.....

Michelle goes the extra mile.....

When Michelle visited one of our lovely couples this week he talked about how he wanted a copy of a magazine that featured Holly Willoughby and her story about dyslexia, a family relative is Dyslexic and he wanted to read about it. Also, his wife wanted to make some material masks but had no material. So, Michelle found the magazine at a local newsagent and got some old material and a material mask for her to see how it is made. They were both so chuffed. Look at their faces.....

Muffin Deliveries.....

We had the pleasure of celebrating a birthday this week with one of our customers. Our care Ambassador Tania during her care visit surprised her customer with a cake not forgetting a candle 97 years young...HAPPY BIRTHDAY

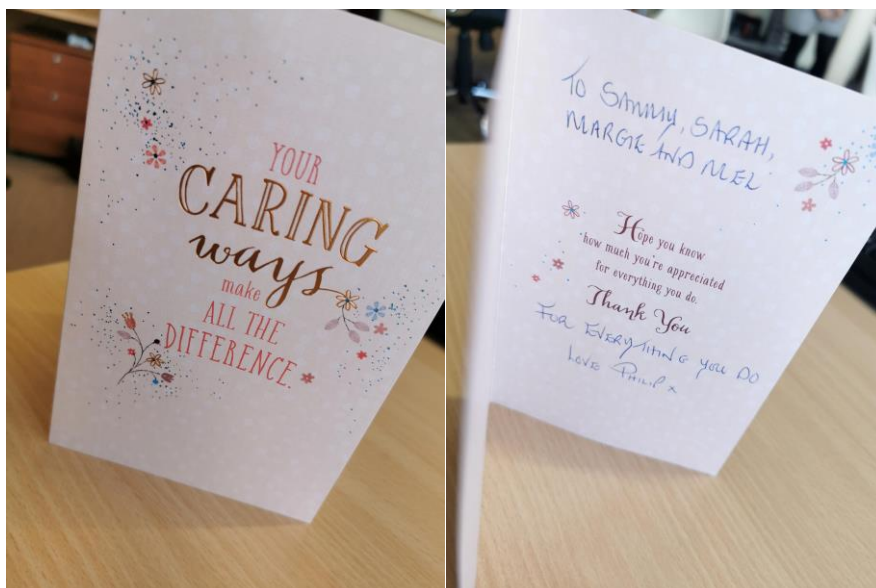

Tania also delivered a muffin to our Care Director Sammy...what a lovely treat!

Thanks from a customer.....

Another lovely bit of happy post received from a wonderful customer..... Our team have been placing daily and weekly mental well-being calls to ensure our customers have all they need during shielding or isolation. Also, a friendly listening ear to help us all through these overwhelming times. That is what our team does best. Keeping compassion at the heart of everything we do.

Our customers are always part of our big family.

Face Coverings

Hollie visited one of our customers this week who talked about how she hasn't visited her local store since Lock down and would feel safer if she had a face covering to wear.

Hollie contacted a lady called Sam Cooper in Wittering who has to date made 250 masks, 200 headbands, 50 scrub bags and 30 scrub hatsWhat an amazing lady she is doing it all free and just asking kindly for donations or material.

Well Done Hollie for always thinking of ways to promote independence for our customers
