

Six Successful Years

Celebrated by Wright Care at Home

Last month, we were honoured to be invited to Wright Care at Home's sixth birthday party. Following the pandemic, it was a lovely opportunity for carers, customers, and friends of the business to all come together and celebrate.

The Vintage Singers' took us back to yesteryear with a beautiful soundtrack to the afternoon. Tables exquisitely laid, we were served finger sandwiches, cakes, tea, and treats from Chloe's Brownies of Bourne. A close ally of Wright Care, Marie Curie were in attendance to take donations, and a performance from the children of Edenham pre-school had everyone singing along!

The highlight of the afternoon was the award ceremony, led by Samantha Wright, founder and director of Wright Care at Home. Samantha spoke of her passion for person-centred home care in the community, following her eighteen years' experience as a care worker, and of how important it is to go above and beyond for her dedicated team. Samantha spoke about how Wright Care at Home is not a big company, but all she ever wanted was to provide a wonderful place to work, and professional care to be provided to their customers.

Samantha presented care workers, Tania and Nicola with awards for their six years of service, right from when the company was founded. The same award was also presented to Sarah Poulton, the company's Registered Care Manager, who has led them to achieve two outstanding CQC inspections. Many other awards were presented, with a palpable feeling of love and respect in the room, from team members and customers alike.

Wright Care at Home are proud to have served a total of 267 customers over the past six years. Currently, they are a team of thirty-three, providing care to fifty people in Bourne, Stamford and the surrounding villages.

Congratulations to everyone on the team, from all of us at Discovering Bourne. Here's to the next six years!
